

BOSTON OUTCLASSES BROOKLYN AND WINS FIFTH AND DECIDING GAME

the second inning which gave the Boston team its first run, and Hooper scored in the next inning on a walk in the fifth inning Hooper singled and scored on the pass for a score when Harold Janvin doubled, Janvin was a star at the bat today, but he had no chance in the field.

Brooklyn has no heroes left out of the wreckage. Morrey, at first base, played good ball, and Pfeiffer pitched hard at all times, but the American League winners, champions of the world, proved too much for the batting Dodgers. It was a decisive victory, and to one will deny that Boston played the better ball throughout the series.

When Brooklyn took the field the Dodgers were hopeful of victory. They had proved that they could hit a right hander, and Pfeiffer showed enough in a previous game to give them high hopes of victory. But they had not counted on Shore. Last year he pitched in the first game and came back and won 6-1 in the fourth.

The Brooklyn rooters who had come from the Flatbush section, to witness a victory, were singing "We Will Land on Tigris Beautiful Shore." They landed all right, but landed in a pile of wreckage.

The little band of rooters who were seated in the Brooklyn stands gave a shout of elation when Cutshaw walked in the second inning, went to third on two infield outs and scored on Cady's passed ball. Pfeiffer had retired the Boston side in order, and the Dodgers rooters were jubilant. But the Red Sox came back in the second half, and Lewis furnished the punch with a triple.

Forest City, never a heavy hitter, who has been hitting around the 200 mark, came to bat in the third inning and singled. Shore went out and Hooper walked. Then Janvin hit to Olsen, the Swede infielder fumbled, and Cady crossed the plate. The Boston star went wild and Brooklyn groaned. A minute later Shore, who has proved to be one of the stars of the season, singled, and Hooper crossed the plate giving Boston a 2-0 lead. From that time on the game was all Boston. The Brooklyn rooters sang for a rally like the one of yesterday, but after Stengel had singled on a short fly, Whatan, who had singled and another Cutshaw not Morrey could hit the ball out of the infield.

When Forest City, moved in and mastered Morrey's fly and took the ball in his pocket in the ninth, the crowd gave out long cheer for Shore and then another one for Carrigan. There had been a fine this season when even the Brooklyn rooters had given up hope of winning the pennant. Gardner was injured, Jack Barry, the keystone of the infield, was out of it, and Leonard was not in shape.

Things looked bad for Carrigan, but he kept playing at it and downed the Tigers and White Sox and won a pennant despite the injuries.

As the long line of fans passed out of the entrance they cheered for Carrigan, and those who had ridiculed Lannin for selling the great Speaker cheered him to the echo. Such is the sentiment of the baseball fan. He loves a winner, and as the season passes into history, Boston is first in the art of playing the national game.

How Shore, Star of World Series, Made Good in Baseball Circles

They don't call him "Slim" or "Lengthy," this youth who pitched the Boston team to victory on Columbus Day. His name is Ernest Grady Shore. F. F. N. C. Carrigan liked the Grady part when the big pitcher came to Boston and he stuck. He has won three games in a world series and lost one. This is a record that cannot be equaled for a youngster.

Shore is the greatest college pitcher that the South has ever produced, and he has made good with a vengeance. Boston fans consider the tall Southerner the best bat in baseball today. He pitches with his heart and with his entire 6 feet four inches back of the ball.

In the fall of 1907 a tall, lanky mountaineer entered the preparatory department of Guilford College, North Carolina, the only Quaker institution south of Philadelphia. It is a coincidence that this college has the distinction of playing the first baseball game ever staged south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Guilford met the North Carolina Aggies in Raleigh in the spring of 1910.

Shore was slated to pitch. There never stepped into the box a greener specimen of humanity than Shore was on that day.

His tremendous height made him appear all arms and legs. In this game Shore proved that he could be cool. It was his debut, but despite this fact the tall southerner stood the fears and fiber of the college rooters and moved down batter after batter.

It was a great battle. Darkness ended the game in the thirteenth inning with a score of 1 to 1, and the greatest of southern college pitchers had started his career. Among the batters Shore faced that day were Davy Robertson of the New York Giants and Hartsell of the New York Yankees. Shore graduated in 1914.

"Mugsy" McGraw refused to keep Shore when the tall pitcher graced the Giants' roster. It has been the good fortune of all who have been refused by McGraw to star in a world series. Gowdy of the Braves did it in 1914 and Shore has done it this year. Shore played with "Babe" Ruth on the Baltimore team in the International League.

GAME BY PLAYS SHOWS DODGERS WERE HELPLESS

trifice. Scott fouled out to Meyers. One run.

Third Inning
Brooklyn—Pfeiffer fanned. Gardner threw out Myers on grounder. Shore threw out Daubert. Shore pitching great ball. No runs.

Boston—Cady singled. Shore fouled out to Meyers, but Hooper was walked and then Olson fumbled Janvin's grounder, also threw wildly past second, Cady scoring. Hooper went to third. Olson gets two errors on this play. Janvin hit stealing. Shorten singled, scoring Hooper. Hoblitzel up. Shorten out stealing second. Two runs.

Fourth Inning
Brooklyn—Stengel filed to Shorten. Wheat fanned. Shore threw out Cutshaw. All easy chances. No runs.

Boston—Hoblitzel walked. Lewis sacrificed him to second. Cutshaw threw out Gardner. Hoblitzel went to third. Olson threw out Scott on grounder. No runs.

Fifth Inning
Brooklyn—Gardner threw out Morrey. Olson filed to Shorten. Meyers singled but Gardner threw out Pfeiffer on a slow hit infield grounder. No runs.

Boston—Olson threw out Cady. Shore lined to Wheat. Hooper singled and then scored on Janvin's slashing double. Janvin went to third on wild pitch but Shorten fanned, ending the rally. One run.

Sixth Inning
Brooklyn—Myers filed to Shorten. Gardner threw out Daubert. Stengel popped Scott. Quick work. No runs.

Boston—Hoblitzel went out at first. Lewis singled. Gardner forced Lewis and went to second on wild pitch. Morrey threw out Scott. No runs.

Seventh Inning
Brooklyn—Wheat filed to Hooper. Shore tossed out Cutshaw. Morrey singled. Scott fumbled Olson's grounder and then threw wildly over Hoblitzel. Brooklyn had a grand chance, but Myers rapped a grounder which Scott picked up cleanly and shot to Hoblitzel. No runs.

Boston—Cady fouled out to Morrey. Shore fanned. Cutshaw threw

DEADLOCK STILL HOLDS BETWEEN STRIKE FORCES

But they would not stand for discrimination of any kind, they walked out and refused to return to work.

450 Strike-Breakers On Job
After the walkout of strikers at the camp this morning there remained about 300 Filipinos. These men went to work on the Matsunaka and Hironaka, and by noon 250 more had been recruited, making a total of 450 men on the job, all strike-breakers.

McCabe, Hamilton and Renny said this morning they had 70 Japanese at work today, but could not say whether they were union men, as they asked no questions when they hired the Orientals. They said they had 60 Japanese at work all last night.

Feeling among Japanese union stevedores against Luna T. Misaki is said today to be running high. They believe he is responsible for discriminating against them. Misaki sent a representative to the Hawaii Shipho this morning with a statement that he told his own non-union men they are not citizen laborers and consequently cannot have the same rights and privileges as native Hawaiians. He added that he believes it better for Japanese to stand alone and work together with the other stevedores whether union or not. He denied having advised shipping firms to discriminate against union Japanese.

Police Called Back
Mustered out of extra strike duty, policemen who have been living at the jail for several days, came back to the station last night to resume their mess there following the walkout of striking stevedores on the waterfront. Only one meal, luncheon, was missed at the jail by the policemen.

This morning Sheriff Rose reports the situation very orderly along the docks and well in hand by the police. He says there is no attempt of rowdiness by the strikers who have inaugurated a practice of merely walking away from the job quietly when the actions of their employers were not satisfactory.

GERMAN NAVAL PLANES HARASS ITALIAN TOWNS ON THE TRIESTE FRONT
(German Official.)
BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 12.—German Admiralty Report: On the night of October 9 one of our naval planes successfully bombarded the aerodrome and port establishments of Vico, and on the night of October 10 another squadron attacked military establishments at Montalione and a hostile naval aerodrome near Grado. Others attacked the railroad station and military establishments of San Giorio and San Grano, with much success and many good hits, and all the aeroplanes returned unharmed in spite of violent shelling by hostile guns.

POLICE NOTES
Sam Kapohu, in court on two charges, one of threatening and the other of assault, was discharged from the former and fined $20 for the latter.

Seven Filipinos arrested in the pineapple cannery district in Iwilei Tuesday, charged with shooting "craps," were fined $5 each in the police court this morning.

Five defendants were in the police court for drunkenness. One paid a $6 fine, another donated $1, a third was tried later and the others were given suspended sentences.

Albert Arch, 81 Nox and Willie Hapua, who are accused of wrecking a Japanese store in Waikiki several days ago, were arraigned in the police court and their cases continued one week.

The grain elevator of McKenney, Rogers & Co. at Chicago at Wellsboro, near Laporte, Ind., was destroyed by fire.

Dr. Samuel D. Dixon, commissioner of health of Pennsylvania, was elected today at Kalaupapa.

PINKHAM'S WISH IN GLEN MATTER IS PASSED OVER

Larrison. Governor Pinkham is not opposed to the plans, but he wants to hold the matter up a little longer.

Forbes then submitted the question to a vote, which carried.

Campbell's Bill Again
Like the ghost in an old play, the dam bill of Martin Campbell flitted in an hour again at today's meeting.

This time it was through a letter from his attorney, Thompson, Milverton & Cathcart, who stated to the commission that the matter of collecting a bill of $250 for professional services in the inspection of Nuuanu dam had been referred to them.

Castro suggested that the attorneys be informed of "the facts in the case." Forbes thought not. He said that no statement of facts had been asked for in the letter and proposed that it be placed on file, merely, to which the commissioner agreed.

Puunui Roller in Shop
Lord-Young Engineering Company reported that a tandem roller has been placed on Puunui streets to restore them to their proper condition.

Engineer Kirchhoff informed the commission that the roller is now in the repair shop and that present nothing is being done. Here Mayor Lane expressed his views.

"Those people have got to come through," he declared emphatically. "There's no excuse for such delay as we have to put up with. The weather is good now, too. Puunui people are kicking continually because 'of the roads there.'"

Minor matters of business followed, after which the commission adjourned.
